

Developing Research Models in Primary Schools

A one-day conference for leaders and practitioners

Gatley Teaching School will be hosting a conference focusing on the theme of developing research models with leaders and practitioners in primary schools. The aim is to identify how to bring about improvement in children's learning and school organisation.

The conference will include speakers who have supported the development of school-based research models, including:

- Dr Linda Hammersley-Fletcher, Reader and Centre Lead for Educational Leadership and Management, Manchester Metropolitan University.
- Dr Ruth Dann, Senior Lecturer in Education, UCL Institute of Education.

Attendees of the conference will also have an opportunity to participate in the following workshops:

- "Developing Research Leaders in School" How R&D Leads have developed practitioner-led research models.
- "Pedagogy through Subject Leadership" How Specialist Leaders in Education (SLEs) have trained research leaders to operate in their own schools.

- "Middle and Senior Leader Development" How middle and senior leaders have embraced R&D as an integral part of their work.

The conference will be held on Friday 14 July 2017
at Bredbury Hall Hotel, Osborne Street, Stockport SK6 2DH, between 9:00am and 3:30pm.

For more information and to request a conference booking form, please send an email to:
teachingschool@gatleyprimary.com

Sponsored by:

